

Price Adjustment Notification

Apex Replacement Chips

Dear Customer,

Hope you're doing well!

Firstly, we thank for your always support and trust on Apex. Because the prices for the raw materials of chips (battery, capacitance, resistance, PCB and etc.) rise, among which some even up to over 50%, and considering to the pressure of rising costs, Apex decided to adjust the prices for some replacement chips which will be effective from 18:00pm April 9th, 2021. Please contact your sales manager for details.

We will be appreciated for your understanding and support on the adjustment. As always, Apex will make every effort to repay your love with high quality product and services.
